

Color Key
and Histogram

Heatmap visualization of data, showing a dense matrix of values. The color scale ranges from dark red (low values) to bright yellow (high values). The matrix exhibits a strong diagonal pattern, indicating high self-correlation or similarity between rows and columns. The overall distribution is highly structured, with distinct blocks of high and low values.

Heatmap visualization of data, showing a dense matrix of values. The color scale ranges from dark red (low values) to bright yellow (high values). The matrix exhibits a strong diagonal pattern, indicating high self-correlation or similarity between rows and columns. The overall distribution is highly structured, with distinct blocks of high and low values.